

GS- Statement of Purpose

I am [REDACTED], a high school graduate from [REDACTED] Nepal, residing with [REDACTED] in a close-knit family environment that provides immense emotional support. My father runs a [REDACTED], and my mother operates a [REDACTED] store. Additionally, my grandfather also runs a [REDACTED] alongside his [REDACTED]

This family circumstance ensures there are significant support in my academic or professional journey. Our family's stable income, totaling AUD [REDACTED] annually, along with our assets, provides the financial backing necessary for me to pursue my studies abroad. As a responsible member of my family, I intend to return to Nepal after completing my studies abroad. This decision is motivated by my dedication to caring for my family and ensuring their well-being. Our stable income and shared assets give me a strong base for my studies and future responsibilities at home.

The primary reason for not pursuing this course in Nepal is the lack of advanced resources, practical training, and global exposure in the educational institutions here. The courses offered in Nepal do not match the comprehensive and practical approach provided by international universities.

Australia has excellent global education and a multicultural society, with rules (ESOS and TPS) to protect students. Australia is known for its safe, multicultural environment, and excellent healthcare and support services for international students I chose Australia, particularly the Churchill Institute of Higher Education (CIHE), because of its globally recognized education quality, multicultural environment, and excellent support services for international students through the ESOS Act, TPS, and OSHC. CIHE's Bachelor of Business-Major in Hospitality program offers a blend of theoretical knowledge and practical experience through real-life projects, which is crucial for my career development. The program's annual cost is AUD [REDACTED]

Completing the Bachelor of Business- Major in Hospitality at CIHE will significantly benefit my career objectives. It will equip me with the necessary skills and knowledge to excel in the field of accounting and financial analysis and even more at hospitality sectors. My immediate goal is to secure positions such as Hotel Manager, Front Office Manager, and Hospitality Consultant in reputed companies like The Soaltee Kathmandu, Hyatt Regency, Vannasut Hotel, The Everest Hotel, or Radisson Hotel. These companies are renowned for their robust employee development programs and abundant career growth opportunities. I anticipate recovering my educational investment within 5-6 years of employment. My long-term goal is to take over and expand my family business, utilizing the global perspectives and practical experience gained at CIHE. This will not only help me achieve personal success but also contribute positively to Nepal's economic development.

In accordance with Ministerial Direction No. 106, I believe my consistent academic performance, strong family support, and well-defined career objectives demonstrate my genuine intent to study in Australia. My commitment to returning to Nepal to support my family business and contribute to the community further reinforces my sincerity as a prospective student at CIHE.

I am dedicated to continuous learning and frequently attend self-study sessions and workshops to improve my technical skills. I understand that lifelong learning is important for my personal and professional growth. Especially during my studies in Australia, I am fully aware of the visa conditions.

In conclusion, studying at CIHE will provide me with unparalleled opportunities to develop my skills, gain international exposure, and prepare for a successful career in accounting and finance. I am confident that this experience will be invaluable in achieving my professional goals and making a significant impact in my home country.
